School spirit involves being a good sport

Decorating and designing hoops being Super Argyll, waving the spirit stick, or pretending to be Tarzan in a skit are just some of the ways one type of school spirit is displayed at M-G.

Having school spirit also means that one has to be a good sport whether the team is winning or losing and one has to support the team whether it is having a good or a bad season.

School spirit is not just for basketball. This feeling of hope and good will must prevail over all of the school activities. If this spirit is evident at all times, the participants are urged to do their best in everything they undertake.

Students are not the only ones who have school spirit. The administration, the faculty, and the parents also show their support by putting on skits, participating in pep sessions, and following all the school activities.

State delegates and items: Larry Kurtz, Steve Young, 14-15 N. Childs, Diane F. Cary, McCaslin, Sue Ellen Butcher, Dave Carey, Michelle Small, Steve Wyatt, Jane Pencock and Sherie Davis.

M-G students honored

Seventeen seniors were awarded scholarship plaques at a Scholarship Banquet held in May of 1972. Each honored senior had maintained a grade point average of 3.25 for five semesters.

Four Boys' State delegates and two Girls' State delegates from M-G spent a week last summer at Indiana State University and Indiana University respectively. They learned and practiced different aspects of political government.

The DAR Good Citizenship award recipient was chosen for her outstanding traits of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award was presented to the senior scoring highest on a written examination relating to different phases of homemaking. Members of the FFA chapter at M-G selected the FFA Sweetheart.

Scholarship plaque recipients for 1972 were Jane Peacock, Steve Young, Wyatt, Chris Bohlander, Chris Love, Brenda Neen, Mark Jurett, and

Activities boost enthusiasm

Clash 'Em Day, a Sock 'Em and a Boot 'Em Day were some of leivities used to show school spirit the week long Homecoming activities. Not only were class meetings held and the class attendants and queen candidates chosen, but each class had out members working on hall

On Thursday, a pep session was held at the school. Then to end the activities the winner of the hall decoration competition was named and all the students were urged to wear black and gold to show support for the team.

The Seniors won the hall decoration contest and they chose Michelle Small as The Homecoming Queen of 1972. Michelle was elated as she was crowned during the halftime activities of the Madison-Grant vs. Maconaquah game.

FHA sponsors "Holly Ball"

Decorated with holly trees, the M-G room of the 1972 FHA was the scene of the "Holly Ball." Carolyn Davis was crowned queen of the ball. FHA members and her court included Trudy Hollingsworth and Virginia Chapman. Mrs. Dennis Clevenger served as mistress of ceremony. Music was provided by the Jun Longest Quintet.

Individualism is self-expression

Expressing one's own thoughts creatively and not following the crowd distinguishes a truly unique individual from the majority who follow the crowd just so they will not be "different." An individual does not change his ideas just because the majority is changing its ideas. The individual establishes his own beautiful and separate identity; no matter what others think.

Madison-Grant captures three tourney crowns

Three Madison-Grant athletic teams captured tourney titles this year. The varsity basketball squad beat Southwood and Northfield in the opening games of the Grant County Tourney to qualify for the final game opposing Mississinewa. The Argylls won the tourney title and trophy for the first time in M-G history with the score of 75-53.

The reserve basketball squad also won their first tourney title by defeating Eastbrook and Oak Hill.

The M-G wrestlers were victorious in the Grant County Wrestling Tourney. They defeated Eastbrook, Mississinewa, and Oak Hill to win the tourney crown.

We work together—experimenting, discovering, creating, investigating,
challenging, learning—at MGHS. Striving for our goals, in constant time, times we may fail, but always we will try for our goals and use the reflections of ourselves.

THIS IS ACADEMIC IN-VOLVEMENT. WE STRIVE TO BE INVOLVED.

Language Arts Department reflects variety

Keeping up with the Language Arts Department takes tremendous skill and agility. Studying the habits of the Sioux Indians, indepth grammar studies, and running "heats" for the newspaper reflect the variety in each class.

The Freshmen Core Program holds political convention, an Olympiad, and 500 Mile Race Month in May. Freshmen and sophomores study grammar in detail and learn facts that correlate with the movies sponsored by the English Department. In addition, sophomores take on the challenge of writing and illustrating a children's story. Juniors concentrated on American authors such as Mark Twain by reading Huckleberry Finn. Senior English students study units on social and business letter writing, job applications and interviews and hear several interesting guest speakers. College Prep students became aware of the English language through indepth studies in grammar and composition and writing a term paper.

Journalism classes learn about year book and newspaper in a detailed study. By incorporating characters and themes from their reading, World and English Literature students learn that a great deal of time and effort is needed for writing a soap opera.

French and Spanish students develop their vocabulary

French students develop their vocabulary by playing a variety of games to learn the vocabulary.

Spanish students play many games such as Futol, Bingo, Hangman, Trivial Pursuit and Scrabble. They also sing songs and perform skits. Fridays are cultural days when they learn about the customs of different Spanish speaking countries through reports and by reading the Spanish magazines "Adelante" and "Cinco".

French students participate in games and songs. They perform skits that are voted on and awarded back to the class. Each class has a French representative and each class has a French representative. On "French" days, if a student speaks in English, he has to pay a penny for every English word he has spoken. The money is saved for a party at the end of the year. Many aspects of daily French life are learned through communicating with French pen pals.

Communication techniques vary in style with course

Working primarily with demonstration, non-speaking students in Speech classes find themselves very often required to present and deliver speeches with no lecture. They also find themselves involved with listening tests at times, the game of charades and acting out.

Advanced speech students become involved in a deeper study of speech through exercises in persuasion and rhetorical speaking.

Spelling bees, class work in literary criticism, and essays are the examples were among the subjects which comprised the Communication Skills tests.

Students in leading TV classes find themselves engaged in the study of how existing mass communication media being introduced to all aspects of production and programming in the broadcasting field.

Staff members share in responsibilities

The members of the yearbook and newspaper staff discover that being on staff presents a much more difficult task than ever imagined.

At first these staff members found that they had an over whelming amount of time on their hands. This, however, did not last long when deadlines became reality.

Long hours are spent working diligently on the yearbook and newspaper during classes as well as after school and on weekends to meet these deadlines.

This gives staff members an opportunity to work with one another and share in the responsibilities placed upon them.

Each staff member puts forth his best effort in order to present Madison Grant with the most worthwhile newspaper and yearbook.

Challenges are introduced to Science students

Science students at St. Albans High School are challenged to think critically and creatively. These students are encouraged to think critically and creatively, and to use their knowledge of science to solve problems. They are also encouraged to use their knowledge of science to solve problems.

Consistent with the school's mission, the challenges that these students face are designed to be of a high level of difficulty. The challenges are designed to be of a high level of difficulty, and to be of a high level of difficulty. The challenges are designed to be of a high level of difficulty, and to be of a high level of difficulty.

Elections highlight Social Studies Department

The Social Studies Department truly stands with the people, both electorally and in seeking to improve ways.

Mrs. Bennett's World History classes began with a presentation about the election process, which was held in the school's auditorium. The students in the class were also given a tour of the school.

Mr. Bennett's U.S. History classes studied the election process by holding mock primaries and debates. The students were also given a tour of the school. The election itself was held in the school's auditorium. Each class had a chance to vote for their favorite candidate.

Mr. Stines's U.S. History classes participated in a voting booth, where the students

Music classes display spirit

Du ba du ba du ba du ba du ba du ba is just one of the many songs selected by the students that you may hear when you walk down the music hallway at MCHS. Under the direction of Mrs. Bethany Walton, the chorus is divided into four classes: Freshman Choir, Girls' Choir, Male Choir, and Concert Choir. The choirs performed their first combined concert on October 26th.

The Concert and Symphonic Bands, directed by Mr. Donald Lamb, combine to form the Marching Band which performs at the State Fair and football games, among other places. The Pep Band plays for basketball games, while the Jazz Ensemble performs at dances for their concert. Mr. Lamb seeks enthusiasm, spirit, and self-discipline in his band students.

Self-expression and creativity are observed in art students

An observing art teacher notices creative abilities easily observed in any student. The art classes provide the student with a means of self-expression and creativity.

Following art history, sculpture students learn the significance of sculpture and their works throughout time.

Students enjoy making clay models, types of sculpture, such as ceramic, learn block and woodcuts. Students learn student design element.

Surviving cultural aspects of art such as collage, weaving, ceramics, and painting reflects the variety in basic art. Although developing hobbies is the main aim of art class, the work seems to be very popular.

Painting and drawing give the student a look into the world of abstraction and realism.

Business classes orient students for business world

The business world is a vast and important part of our life. The Business Department is an important part of the school.

It prepares the student for clerical, secretarial, and business administration jobs.

General Business orients the students into the business world. It teaches the student to type, to use the business machine, and to use the business law. It also teaches the student to use the business law. It also teaches the student to use the business law. It also teaches the student to use the business law.

Thus the Business Curriculum offers a wide opportunity for a student to become involved in the commercial field and provides a chance for the individual to excel in the business field of his or her choice.

Students find practice helpful in Industrial Arts

Students in Industrial Arts learn that working with their hands can be a rewarding experience, and that machines have an immense importance in our society.

Building model cars keeps the wood fabrication students busy, while the wood industries students learn corporations and mass produce marketable products.

Gaining experience in selection, identification and safe utilization of tools, the power mechanics students also study engines and power.

General metals students are introduced to the importance of metals and the metal working industry.

Printing students work diligently to print the Clan Courier, as well as bulletins and announcements.

Bob Davidson, Jeff Cox, Ken Thurston and Doug Brown say, "Let's win, and we will have a good time."

Valuable experience is gained in Home Economics classes

Homemakers of tomorrow begin preparation for their future careers by gaining valuable experience in the various branches of the Home Economics Department.

Cooking students spend the year working in the kitchen, while during the year learn to cook with a gas range. The students also learn to cook with a gas range. The students complete, while the other students master a lined wool garment. The juniors and seniors tailor a suit in Cloth-

Students in Food and Nutrition learn to plan meals, and to make a variety of food products.

The study of children's care is an important development in the Home Economics program. The students participate in the study of the Child Development program, which is occupied, whereas, knitting and crocheting keep Handicraft students busy.

Students in the Home Economics Department are shown working on projects in the classroom.

Agriculture prepares future farmers in actual situations

Through involvement, the Agriculture Department at MCHS has a great influence on the development of the learning community in this area.

The Agriculture curriculum covers all aspects of farming from the learning process to the actual experience.

Students in agriculture classes are involved in the study of crops, farming mechanics, livestock, and farming as a business. In addition to regular classes, senior boys are given a chance to practice what they have been taught by working in farm sales, service shops, or working on farms. Also, in this curriculum, the juniors and seniors are given a chance to specialize in any of the many fields offered at the Mid-Central area vocational school in Elwood.

Mr. Hennman observes his agriculture students as they study various cultural qualities of various cultures.

Physical Education Department is important aspect of curriculum

By offering a variety of physical activities, the Physical Education Department at Madison-Grant is an important aspect of the curriculum.

Girls P. E. students are very active in their classes with volleyball tournaments and gymnastics. A highlight of the year is a trip to the bowling alley to help girls better understand the game. Boys in P. E. classes are involved in weight lifting, track and field, and other competitive sports. An Advanced P. E. course for boys has been initiated this year for the boys who want to build their bodies to the peak of perfection.

Office assistants perform essential tasks

Answering the telephone, running errands and typing are just a few of the tasks that an office assistant performs during the day.

Besides receiving half a credit a semester, students gain many valuable assets. They learn to communicate with people by way of telephone and in person.

Office assistants learn to develop techniques that will help them handle typical office situations from day to day and cope with unexpected emergencies that arise. They learn to make decisions independently and to act upon these decisions.

Receptionists and assistants give help

A new addition to the group called class assistants this year is receptionists who give visitors valuable help in finding rooms.

Not only must traditional assistants grade papers, run errands, help in lab, and assist slow learner, but they must set a good example for the students.

The assistants experience many different emotions, embarrassment because of teasing, surprise when they are hit by flying pieces of metal from an experiment, and foolishness after giving a visitor the wrong instructions to get to a specific classroom.

For half a credit a semester, assistants have to go through a lot, but they know that their jobs are important to the teachers whom they help.

Cadet teachers and library staff gain skill and experience

Cadet teachers travel daily to one of various elementary or junior high schools of their choice. At these schools they develop their talents and techniques in the teaching field.

Cadet teachers accept any responsibility given them by the teacher with whom they are working. Making student observations, working individually with students, and assisting the teacher are only a few of the many tasks assigned to the cadet teachers.

Beginning as assistants, cadet teachers eventually assume the duties of teachers.

The library is the key to many helpful resource materials for the student's study of various subjects. It also serves as the center for contemporary issues with its current magazines and newspapers. The library staff members are kept busy helping students locate resources for their study as well as assisting the head librarian.

Along with their duties at the check out desk, both boys and girls are involved in running the audio-visual department. Having both male and female projectionists is a new feature at M.C.

Cadet teachers, Karen Jessup, Chris Bohlander, Amy Heston, Chris Cloud, and Debbie Reynolds, plan future assignment.

In order to qualify for membership in the National Honor Society, a student must possess such qualities as leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Based on these qualities, scholarships are granted to selected senior students. Members of the Madison Grant chapter of the National Honor Society demonstrate their concern for others by participating in the President's UNICEF fund raising drive.

Acting as a governing unit for the student body, the Student Council functions under the direction of Mr. Wright. As well as planning convocations and a homecoming ceremony, council members transmit to the administration the ideas of the students. For Christmas, the council sponsors the purchasing of a Christmas tree.

French and Spanish Clubs combine party

French and Spanish Club members display great enthusiasm at their club meetings and parties.

This year members of both clubs celebrated Christmas by having a combined party. During the party, representatives of each club presented information about the Christmas in the countries of Spain or France.

One of the most exciting moments during the party occurred when Deon Hipsher was crowned queen after she found the bean in her cupcake. This unusual custom comes from the French. After she was crowned a king was chosen to reign with her during the party.

As the traditional Spanish parties were broken, both clubs were brought together as they scrambled for the goodies scattered on the floor.

Students gain understanding through music

Each person has his own concept of what music is. To some people music is a form of entertainment; to others it is a kind of Utopia in which to shelter one's self. Others believe that the lyrics of today's songs contain possible solutions for many of today's problems. To the Madison-Grant choral department and to Mrs. Walton, M-G's choral director, music is a way of life, a profession, something that each person lives with.

M-G lettermen purchase camera

Realizing the important role which photography can play in sports, the M-G Lettermen's Club purchased a movie camera. Sponsors Coach Miller and Coach Gallo realize that being able to watch films of the games and allowing each player to learn by his mistakes is a great asset to any team. Club members did such things as sell Argyll bumper stickers and sponsor a faculty basketball game in order to raise money for the camera.

Booster Clubs back Argylls

To us Ford means victory. Basketball coach Jack Ford has brought to Madison-Grant a new concept of what winning is. Getting caught up in the Argyll heat with Coach Ford, booster club members cheer the Argylls on to victory. Not just indoors but at the field as well, Argyll backers have spirit. Coach Gallo's perseverance and strategy meet with the approval of the club members as they sit through rain and snow watching their team defeat opponents.

Just as the team needs a coach, so does the booster club need an advisor. Mrs. Denny is the club sponsor and answers any questions the officers have. President Peggy Meyer leads a team of officers who include Vice-president, Ann Homrighous; Secretary, Sue Ellen Buroker; and Treasurer, Barb Meyer. Class representatives Linda Leckron, Lea Fitzjarrald, Debb Hackney, and Jane Peacock assist the officers in planning pep sessions.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

G.A.A. has busy year

This year's Girls Athletic Association at Madison-Grant proved to be even more active than past G.A.A. organizations. Starting the year off with tennis, the girls posted a record of two wins and two losses. Volleyball was quick to follow as Madison-Grant hosted the first sectional in school history. Volleyball caught on with the fans and proved to be a very exciting sport to watch. Our girls lost to the eventual sectional champ but gave a fine showing of enthusiasm, spirit, and teamwork that let people know that they were from Madison-Grant. Gymnastics and Track and Field kept the athletically inclined girls busy in the winter months. Coach Denney handles the entire G.A.A. program and does a very efficient job.

Although the boys still have the major interest in athletic competition, the girls sports are gaining popularity and will prove to be a valuable asset to the athletic program at Madison-Grant.

The Madison-Grant Freshmen Football Team finished their season with a record of 3 wins and 3 losses. Led by Coach Mike Jacobs and Coach Tom Bennett, the Frosh showed signs of perfection, both team and individual, during the season, and one questioned if they were Argyle yearlings.

The people who viewed the play of the Little Argyls would have to admit that Madison Grant will have some fine football action in the future.

M-G hosts county meet

Cross Country is one of the most demanding and grueling sports at Madison-Grant. It takes a special type of athlete to push his exhausted body over the 2½ mile course to the much sought after finish line and blue ribbon.

Coached by Jim Stone, the C.C. men posted three wins and six losses.

Jim Justus and Brian Kirkwood led the team this year as each at one time held the school record for the new course distance.

For the first year, the Grant County Meet was held at Madison-Grant where the Argylls placed third and a high fourth place in the Mid-Indiana Conference.

The Madison-Grant Tennis Team, guided by Coach Ford, had a successful season with a record of four wins and two losses. The netmen started quickly with three straight victories, but then found the competition to stiffen.

The double duo of Jeff Harrold and Curt Cloud became the first tennis players from M-G to advance to the semi-finals of the sectional, but lost to the eventual sectional champions.

The Reserve Tennis Team, playing a limited schedule, gained the valuable experience needed to compete on the varsity level.

VARSDITY BASKETBALL

Argylls take county and sectional titles

When Head basketball coach Jack Ford came to Madison-Grant, things began to happen. A few of these happenings were capturing the Grant County crown, the Sectional crown, regaining the County Keg, and establishing the best basketball record in M-G history.

The season passed quickly with the Argylls showing the ability that would lead the team to their goals.

Craig Sullivan, Larry Kurtz, Ron Small, Bob Starkey, and Robb Ricks formed the starting line-up throughout the season with strong help from the bench.

With only four seniors graduating, the Argylls will have a veteran team to return next year and defend their titles.

B-Team takes county title

For the first time in Canal County history, a Reserve Basketball County Tourney was held this year and our own Junior Varsity Team walked away with the trophy and title.

This year's edition of the JV team excited the fans, cheerleaders and even their coach Jim Miller who guided the team to a best record of 11 wins and 9 losses.

Many long and strenuous practices were put in by the members of the reserve team but the result is easily seen in the victories over their opponents.

Followers of the Argyll Varsity Team can breathe a little easier knowing that this year's Junior Varsity will add greatly to the success to Argyll winning tradition.

Freshman show ability

The Argyll Freshmen basketball team had a disappointing season with a record of 4-11, but the freshmen had many down-to-the-wire games that they just couldn't pull out.

Coach Linville guided the little Argylls and added much by teaching the fundamentals to the freshmen, preparing them for the rough Reserve and Varsity ball that is ahead for the future Argylls.

M-G managers assist athletes and coaches

Being a manager at Madison-Grant high school is not an easy job. Many hours of hard work are put in by each manager as he does his best to make the athletes look their best so they can do their best.

Some of the jobs a manager may be found doing are washing of uniforms, keeping statistics for the coaches, taping ankles, and many more jobs that are important go unseen. The manager is always accused of not doing anything, but the M-G athletic program could not function without the help and service of our M-G managers.

Wrestlers win County Title

The Argyll Wrestlers experienced a successful season with a record of 4 wins and 5 losses and 1 tie.

Wrestling is considered the main sport of all sports in the M-G athletic program. Many hours of rigorous training in a humid workout room and the self-discipline in making weight paid off for the grapplers this season.

The highlight of the season was capturing the Grant County Wrestling crown. Five county champions from M-G paced the Argylls to victory.

Led by Coach Gallo, the matmen placed fourth in the MIC conference.

With only a few seniors graduating, the future looks promising for next year's team.

Trackmen have exciting season

Polevaulter Tim Roth goes over the bar to stay in competition.

Track and Field is a sport that requires a great deal of desire, determination, and dedication. Except for the relays, track is an individual sport for the athlete who participates in his event for the first place finish and the blue ribbon.

The Trackmen train long and grueling hours to be at their best when the day of the meet arrives.

The Argvll cindermen finished the season with a respectable record 8 wins and 2 losses.

Many fine performances were turned in by our trackmen. Coaches Jim Miller and Gary Rickard added much to the success of the athletes with their valuable help.

With the addition of the new all weather track ready for competition this year, many people came to watch their first track meet and cheer on our athletes to victory.

Golfers defeat all challengers

Golf is known as a sport that one can take with him after high school days and still participate quite effectively in later life.

One would think that the golfers from Madison-Grant had been playing golf all their lives as they posted a perfect record by turning back all opponents in 13 straight matches. Again the linksmen captured the Grant County Title, but came up one stroke short of winning the conference championship.

Coach Wright will have a rebuilding season as only his No. 6 man returns for action, but many Reserves have shown promise and the linksmen will be after their Grant County Title.

Baseballers show promise

The Madison-Grant Baseball Team, coached by Charles Kenworthy had a so-so season with a record of 5 wins and 11 losses. Fine team play was demonstrated much of the season, but the Argylls couldn't get the runs when they needed them.

In the county tourney, the team finished in the runner-up position as Mississinewa nipped the baseballers in the championship game. The Argylls finished a strong third in conference play.

With the new baseball field ready for action, the Argylls promise some good baseball action.

Sponsored by Dennis Stroup, the organization now goes by the name of the Intramural Basketball League. The intramural program has been growing each year due to the better facilities offered at Madison-Grant and will continue to grow in the future.

*It was a very good year
for the Argylls.*

As one Argyll follower speculated this may be the year of the Argyll, and the year of the Argyll it was.

Madison-Grant experienced the most successful year of athletics in the school's history. The Argylls gained much respect from other schools and also gained many new additions to the trophy case.

The Football, Basketball, Wrestling and Golf teams all captured the title as Grant County's best. The Cross Country, Tennis, Track, and Baseball teams enjoyed very successful seasons. The highlight of the year had to be the Argyll basketball team winning the Marion Sectional and the victory celebration that followed. The GAA became very active this year and added two trophies to the Argyll trophy case.

All of the Reserve and Freshmen teams are to be congratulated for the fine seasons they experienced during the year.

Madison-Grant has a right to be proud of its athletic teams because each team represented the school well and each member wore the Argyll uniform proudly.

To be an Argyll is an honor that is bestowed upon a fortunate few, and along with this honor is the pride and determination that every M-G athlete possesses to do his very best for the Argyll cause.

The Madison-Grant Argyll athletic teams accomplished many goals this year and brought much fame to Madison Grant, but this only the beginning. Many M-G athletes will graduate with the proud satisfaction and feeling of once being an Argyll, but there are many more athletes to come in the future, and these Argylls will carry on the winning tradition that is becoming so prevalent at Madison-Grant.

Coach Jack Frost brought many new ideas to Madison-Grant such as a preview of the full-court press and a jump ball. Coach Frost also came with the knowledge of how to get the Grant County Key back to Madison Grant.

As we leaf through the album of MGHS, we see pictures of people. Faces of the administration, faculty, staff, and students are portrayed. No two are alike. Behind each of these faces lies different emotions, talents, interests, and needs. These faces represent the spirit of MGHS.

Administration functions efficiently

The primary responsibility of making the Madison-Grant School Corporation function properly lies in the hands of many people. Superintendent Harold Dick has a number of endless responsibilities as head of the corporation, and Don Inglis has various responsibilities as Assistant Superintendent.

Among the main goals of our school administration are establishing guidelines, making decisions about faculty and curriculum, and supervising various school staffs.

Heading Madison-Grant High School are Mr. Merrill Holloway, principal, and Paul Davis, assistant principal. Mr. Holloway councils faculty members and also works to help improve curriculum changes. Mr. Davis, who is also athletic director, plans athletic schedules, selects equipment, and supervises ticket sales, in addition to his other duties.

Secretaries for the superintendents and principals help to keep the school operations functioning smoothly by handling records and correspondence.

Staff functions accumulatively

The cooperation of many people is needed in making Madison-Grant High School function as an efficient and effective unit of education.

The cooks at MGHS spend many hours preparing and serving well-balanced and nutritious lunches for both faculty and students which helps these people when they return to the classroom to resume study.

The school is kept clean through the combined efforts of the school's matron and the janitors at Madison-Grant High School.

Students are transported to and from school, as well as to and from athletic events, by the Madison-Grant High School bus drivers.

The school nurse, Mrs. Lewis, is helpful if any student is injured or becomes ill.

Mrs. Jim Grindle and Mrs. Xen Todd, study hall supervisors provide a quiet atmosphere for study.

Mrs. Billy Ulery is engrossed in her daily tasks of cleaning the school kitchen and other facilities.

Faculty stimulates courses

The MCHS faculty is a very important part of our school body. The teachers strive to stimulate the many students' interest and to help the students profit greatly from their various courses.

Teachers are confronted with new problems every year. These problems vary from the serious to minor, but they are all a part of the faculty. To solve the many problems that face them, teachers must make many decisions—many of them minor and somewhat routine; others are of extreme importance; all are necessary in the career of teacher, and all are needed for the improvement of the students' understanding.

Teachers also find time and energy to sponsor classes, clubs, and the many sports activities offered their students. Some teachers also devote their spare time chaperoning dances, and many spend their free time helping students improve their understanding of difficult assignments.

Seniors meet the World

This, the final year for the numerous MCHS seniors, is one of the most important times of their lives.

It is the year when the students are forced to actually meet the world for the first time by getting jobs, going to college, and, in many cases, taking on the responsibilities of married life.

Though there is much work to be done and there are many decisions to make, there are still many exciting and interesting times to be spent at school activities and with friends.

At the close of the senior school year, to many students, the long-time dreams for the future become realities.

Juniors make decisions

As with tradition, the junior class finds themselves caught in the midst of a crucial part of their lives. This is the year these students make the decisions involving their life's work and where they should go in search of finding an appropriate career.

These students also find themselves busy with the normal school activities, such as the task of choosing a prom theme and projecting that theme into a successful event.

The junior year is one compiled of not only PSAT and SAT tests, but of the many complicated, yet wonderful things that make school life best.

Sophomores

The sophomore year at MGHS is one that involves much decision making. Sophomores must decide which jackets and rings to order, but more important than that, it is the year when many students really begin to think seriously about their futures.

Freshmen

For the freshmen, the first six weeks can be the roughest. It does not, however, take them long to discover what is expected of them. Soon, what at first seemed frightening becomes routine, as they begin to participate in sports, pep sessions, and other school affairs.

You probably recognized our Delcotron generator with its built in solid state regulator and our famous Delco battery. But did you know there were so many other Delco-Remy products on your G.M. car?

Providing electrical systems for the changing needs of motion has been our specialty for more than 75 years.

A continuous program of developing new products and constantly improving existing ones has made Delco-Remy the world's largest producer of automotive electrical equipment.

Involvement is the foundation on which our school is built. Without it our lives would become dormant. We became involved in 1973 at MGH—it was a great year.

We, the 1973 ne Obliviscaris staff, would like to thank these people for helping make this yearbook possible. These include Mr. Huttoy, Mr. Davis, Mrs. Kathy Johnson, Mrs. Margaret Hammer, the faculty, and the administration for their help and cooperation. Also we thank Jim Parks, Bruce Abernathy, and Larry James for taking and developing many of our pictures. Mrs. Janet Gough for proofreading. Mr. David Nesbitt for giving us many of his pictures. Mr. Ken Hall for lending us pictures. The Marion Chronicle Tribune for giving us many of their pictures. Mr. Gayle Tutterow for taking senior and club pictures and for developing our pictures. Mr. Larry Glaze, our Paragon representative. Paragon Press for printing our book. The Journalism class for writing captions and typing. Dennis Eaton for writing captions and copy and especially we thank our advisor, Mrs. Linda Bragg.

To look up and not down,

To look forward and not back,

To look out and not in . . .

To lend a hand.

THIS IS INVOLVEMENT

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the cultural context of the research. It highlights the need for researchers to be sensitive to the values and beliefs of the communities they are studying. This is particularly important in the field of education, where cultural differences can significantly impact learning outcomes.

The second part of the paper focuses on the methodology used in the study. It describes the process of selecting participants, collecting data, and analyzing the results. The authors emphasize the importance of using a mixed-methods approach to gain a comprehensive understanding of the research topic.

The third part of the paper presents the findings of the study. It discusses the results of the quantitative data analysis and the insights gained from the qualitative interviews. The authors conclude that there are significant differences in learning outcomes between the two groups, and these differences can be attributed to cultural factors.

The final part of the paper offers recommendations for future research and practice. It suggests that educators should be aware of the cultural context of their students and tailor their teaching methods accordingly. Additionally, it calls for further research to explore the underlying reasons for the observed differences.
